

Reimagining the Roseland Centre for a New Era of Outdoor Learning & Adventure

The Roseland Adventure Series

Cycling at the Roseland Centre

Cycling at the Roseland Centre

- Explore Cornwall at your own pace.
- Discover hidden places.
- Become part of the story
- Every journey leaves a legacy

A place to begin and return

The Roseland Centre provides a welcoming base for cyclists wanting to discover one of Cornwall's most beautiful and distinctive landscapes and something special for those travelling by bike:

Quiet lanes. Beautiful views. Historic villages. Coastal challenges. Historic Trails. Crossing the Fal on the King Harry Ferry.

Moments of discovery around every corner.

When the Centre faced closure, the community came together to save a place that had inspired generations through outdoor learning, adventure and connection with nature. Today, we are creating a new chapter place where groups can gather, explore and experience Cornwall together.

Discover Cornwall differently

Cycling allows us to slow down and notice the details. The changing landscape, the character of villages, the rhythm of the roads and the conversations along the way.

The Roseland Peninsula rewards those who explore it thoughtfully.

A cycling adventure here is about more than distance. It is about discovery, connection, shared experience, challenge and memories created along the way

A landscape made for exploration

The Roseland offers cyclists a wonderful mix of:

Quiet country lanes

Coastal viewpoints

Rural landscapes

Historic villages

Challenging climbs and rewarding descents

Whether your group prefers a gentle exploration on historic trails or a more challenging route, the landscape provides opportunities to create your own adventure.
